Dear [Mr./Ms.] [Manager's Name],

My name is Jamie Hass, and I'm writing in support of my application for the Investment Banking Associate position at David Blair & Company. While a Bachelor's Degree in Finance and a Master's Degree in Business Administration have given me the fundamental knowledge necessary to be a successful investment banker, it's the 2+ years at LTA Inc that's significantly furthered my expertise.

Over the last 2 years as an analyst in the M&A division at LTA Inc, I've contribute meaningfully to 6 M&A deals totaling in excess of $3.8 billion, serving as the lead analyst in 3 of these deals. Apart from being integrally involved in valuation and financial modeling for these deals, I was also responsible for maintaining pitch books and ensuring that all stakeholders, both internal and external, had all the information they needed at the right time.

I've been praised by my seniors for the attention to detail and clarity in my reports, especially my executive summaries. One of the MDs termed my executive summary for a critical $1.3 billion M&A deal the "most well-written report I've come across in years." I understand how critical data and reports are in decision making, which is why approach writing even the simplest of reports or updates with utmost diligence.

Another facet of my personality that I'd like to highlight is my networking and people skills. I am proud of my ability to effectively interface with colleagues — be it peers or higher ups — as well as clients, both actual and potential. In fact, I was assigned a summer intern to assist with my tasks while I was just 10 months into my analyst role, a first in my firm. This is a testament to how quickly I settled into my role and my manager's faith in my people management abilities.

I'm now ready for a more impactful role in a larger firm, which is what motivated me to apply for the position you advertised. I'll be happy to answer any questions you have in person or online, at your earliest convenience. I can be reached at (phone number) and (email).

Sincerely,

Jamie Hass

Dear [Mr./Mrs./Ms.] [Manager's Name],

I'm writing to you regarding [COMPANY NAME]'s Front Desk opening, which I discovered on Monster.com earlier this week. I've been working as a Front Desk Clerk at Old South Inn for more than 3 years now, and during that time, I've maintained a 95% customer satisfaction rating. I'm applying to [COMPANY NAME] because I'm ready to take the next step in my career, and hope to leverage my years of relevant experience with Old South Inn and apply them to your new front desk manager position.

My core duties at Old South Inn included greeting and registering customers in a 200-room hotel, as well as monitoring back-of-house operations, offering personalized service, and balancing between $2,000 and $3,000 in cash every day. I also took reservations over the phone, by email, through Airbnb, and in person, and worked diligently to avoid any instances of overbooking. And most important for the front desk manager position, I trained two new employees in daily front desk duties — including operations, guest services, and the use of Toast PMS software.

This professional experience has allowed me to improve my leadership skills, learn the ins and outs of front desk hospitality work, create an easy, comfortable rapport with guests, and prepare for a future in management. I believe my skill set will benefit [COMPANY NAME], which is why I'm reaching out to you as an organized, confident manager with adept communication skills.

I fully believe that I can fulfill the requirements for the manager role at [COMPANY NAME]. I'm looking forward to discussing the position and my qualifications with you in more detail soon. You may contact me at (123) 456-7890, or by email at your.email@your.com. If I haven't heard from you in one week, I'll reach out again in hopes of learning more about the opportunity. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Victoria Clark
